ABSTRACT

This document is a bibliography (without annotations) of 33 project reports and 21 research papers completed by the National Science Foundation (NSF) funded Minnesota Research and Evaluation Project during September 1971 - December 1975. Ten of the project reports and one of the research papers are not available for distribution. The project reports include studies of schools and school systems, descriptions of mathematics and science tests, and reports on curriculum workshops. The research papers are largely on science and mathematics education, educational research techniques, and NSF project reports. (BB)
